Dear Jeff,

I was very pleased to read the article about me and my work in marriage counselling and family mediation which you wrote in the Canadian Jewish News.

I feel that you reported the process of family mediation and its status in our society most accurately. Your support (and that of the CJN) for this relatively new and much-needed alternative to adversarial divorce is most appreciated.

On behalf of all the children of divorce, whose parents read the article and will choose family mediation, I thank you.

Yours sincerely,

Esther Leah Kaplan
