

Business travelers get the red carpet treatment

Now that's service

By Jeff Rosen

WHEN the chairman of the board's Learjet touches down in the Toronto area, he doesn't want to have to stand at a phone booth to order a limousine to whisk him to his business meeting. Well, thanks to Million Air, the car and chauffeur will now be waiting for him when he steps off the plane.

Started three years ago in Dallas, Texas, this ground-based service made its Canadian debut at Toronto-Buttonville Airport in December joining 23 locations across the U.S., Mexico City and London.

From the plane's first approach to take-off Million Air ensures that the finest services and facilities are made available to the business traveler and his pilot.

Planes are marshalled in and guided to a parking place at the airport, located at Woodbine and 16th Avenues in Markham.

Business travelers disembarking from Learjets or Cessnas are greeted by a red carpet rolled out by crisply dressed employees and their bags are promptly taken from the plane. Million Air's facilities allow business people to arrange their business schedules in complete comfort. On-site custom's facilities ensure that the customer is not held up at the airport.

"The sole objective of Million Air is to get the business traveler out of the airport and on his way," says Peter Allen, vice-president of Million Air Toronto, the head Canadian franchise. "He can be downtown 30 minutes after touching down."

For those executives whose stopovers don't permit a trip downtown, Million Air provides a conference room, complete with phones,

Tips

We'd like to tip you off to the fact that there are no tips at Club Med. Everything's included in one price.

However, you are permitted to smile, tip your sunhat or even tip over your rubber raft.

Meals are included. And wine with meals. That's a pretty tasty idea in itself.

Fun and games are included too. If you want to sail or dive, you don't have to dive into your wallet.

Feel free to try archery, tennis and sailboarding too. The only thing you have to spend at Club Med is time.

Even sports lessons are included. After-dinner entertainment and a discotheque.

Be as choosy as you like at Club Med. It doesn't cost you extra. It's all in one single price. How nice.

coffee and catered food, to hold business meetings.

While catering to corporate travelers, Million Air ensures that their pilots also receive first class treatment.

Pilots can relax in the pilot's lounge while waiting for their corporate bosses to return, as their plane is cleaned and serviced.

If they are looking for something more than a rest, Million Air can arrange for them to play golf or racquetball at nearby facilities.
